General Information About Petitioning to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information

The information contained in this document is not intended as legal advice but as a general guide to you to explain the legal process. If you do not understand any of these procedures, talk to an attorney. Court staff cannot give legal advice.

Depending on the situation, sometimes a court order is needed to access adoption case records, birth parent information, and birth record information.

If you asked for a copy of a document or for information about an adoption and you weren't able to get it, you can use these forms to ask a judge for permission to get that information.

NOTE: If you want original birth record information, you must first ask the Minnesota Department of Health for it, and then wait 6 months to see if you can get that information, before filing a Petition to Access with the court

Step 1

Fill out the Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO601)

Match the number in the boxes below with the numbered instructions below.

The benefit of allowing me the information that I am asking for outweighs the importance of keeping the information confidential because:
12
The reason, if any, that the Minnesota Department of Health, the Minnesota Department of Human Services, or other agency refused to give me access to the information I want is:
13

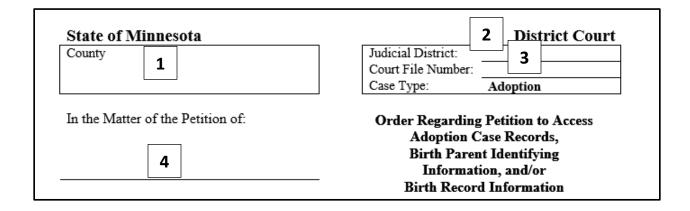

- Write the name and addresses, if known, of any people who may be affected by your request to access the information. (This could possibly include birth parents, birth siblings, adoptive parents, and/or someone else.) Court staff cannot tell you who to list.
- Explain how having the information will benefit you and why that benefit is more important than keeping the information confidential.
- Explain why you were denied access to the information (if applicable).

Step 2

Fill out part of the Order Regarding Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO602)

Complete the top section of the Order Regarding Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO602) following instructions 1-4 above so it matches the top section of the Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO601). Do NOT write anything more on the Order form. The judge will complete the rest of the Order.

ADO600 State Eng 5/19

Step 3 Make copies for your records

You will file the original forms with the court, so we encourage you to make copies of the forms for your own records.

Step 4 File the original forms with the court

File the original Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO601) and Order Regarding Petition to Access Adoption Case Records, Birth Parent Identifying Information, and/or Birth Record Information (ADO602) with the court in the county where you believe the adoption case is located.

To find address and contact information for each county courthouse, visit the court's website at http://mncourts.gov/Find-Courts.aspx.

Step 5 Wait to see if the judge grants your request

After you file your forms with the court, your request will be sent to a judge to decide whether to grant your request.

The amount of time it takes for a judge to make a decision can depend on many factors.

If the judge grants your request and signs an order, court administration will send you a copy of the order.

Step 6

Access the records

If the judge grants your request you can show your order to the place you are trying to get records from so that they can see what the judge is allowing you to get.

Getting information from an agency

You may need to show the agency a certified copy of the court order that allows you access to the information. Certified copies of court records have a seal on them to show the copy is of a real court record.

The information below explains how you can get either a plain or a certified copy of a court record.

Getting information from the court

You can ask court administration for copies (either plain or certified) of court records by:

- ➤ Going to the courthouse and talking to court administration in person; or
- ➤ Mailing a letter to court administration explaining your request in writing.

When asking for a copy, you should give court administration as much detail as possible about the record you want, and provide a copy of the order granting you access. It would be helpful to include the following information, if known:

- Court file number;
- Your name:
- The adopted person's name;
- Name of the record or description of the information you are asking for;
- Date the record was filed; and
- Whether you want a plain copy or a certified copy

There will be a fee for each copy you get. You will need to pay this fee before the court will send you any copies. To see a list of court fees, including fees for copies of documents from a court file, you can visit the court's website at http://www.mncourts.gov/Help-Topics/Court-Fees/District-Court-Fees.aspx

If you are not sure what the total fee amount will be, you should contact court administration in the county where the adoption file is located. Contact information for court administration in each MN county can be found on the court's website at http://mncourts.gov/Find-Courts.aspx.
